CIRO DAPAGIO

ACTOR / DIRECTOR / WRITER / PRODUCER

Ciro Dapagio is a Miami-based actor, director, writer, and producer whose work spans crime thrillers, action, comedy, and character-driven drama. Through Ciro Dapagio Films LLC, he develops stories built around loyalty, betrayal, survival, and the consequences of power, bringing a raw, performance-focused approach to independent filmmaking.

Dapagio stars as Mike White in Mobking, a crime franchise encompassing a feature film and the Mobking Vertical Crime Series. Set within Miami's underworld, the series brings together rival motorcycle clubs, organized crime, federal agents, and competing power structures. Its first season comprises more than 50 short-form episodes, bringing cinematic crime storytelling to the vertical format. The series celebrated its world premiere before a sold-out audience at New York's ALZA Film Festival in October 2026, with season two already in production.

His work extends beyond the crime genre. In Burning Bridges, Dapagio stars opposite Nanette Orellana as wrestler Jack "Stacks" Rockefeller, exploring the personal struggle behind the spectacle of professional wrestling. The project premiered at Dances With Films in Los Angeles in June 2026. He also directs and stars as Gabriel King in Call Him King, an espionage and action project shaped by his interest in classic cinematic tension and morally complicated leading characters.

His broader slate includes Suit Casing, Brass Knuckles, the entertainment-industry satire The Cherry Picker, and the period crime series Once Upon a Time in Miami. Projects in development include A Good Run and Blood and Iron, a gothic horror and action feature written by Daniel Knauf.

Working both in front of and behind the camera, Dapagio is committed to expanding independent production in South Florida and creating opportunities for emerging performers alongside established talent. His approach centers on strong characters, authentic performances, and stories with an unmistakable sense of place.
